Sobhasaria Group & Rotary Club Celebrate Doctors' Day and CA Day with Green Initiative

To mark the beginning of Rotary Club Sikar's new session and to celebrate Doctors' Day and CA Day on 1 July 2025, Sobhasaria Group of Institutions and Rotary Club Sikar jointly organized a tree plantation program at the campus. More than 51 trees of Neem, Peepal, Ashoka, Mango, Gulmohar, Colocarpus, Trimeria, and Jamun were planted.

Tree plantation directly helps in mitigating greenhouse gases, especially CO<sub>2</sub>, by carbon sequestration. For instance:

1 mature tree absorbs approximately 22 kg of CO<sub>2</sub> per year on average. The 51 trees planted at Sobhasaria could absorb approximately 1.1 tonnes of CO<sub>2</sub> annually once they mature and much more over their lifetime.

Importance of Tree Plantation in India

Tree plantation is one of the most effective measures to combat climate change, improve air quality, and ensure sustainable ecological balance. India faces challenges like rapid urbanization, deforestation, and rising pollution levels, making large-scale plantation drives essential. According to the Ministry of Environment, Forest, and Climate Change, India has consistently increased its green cover between 2015 and 2023, the country added about 2,261 sq. km of forest cover. The nationwide 'Van Mahotsav' and state-level plantation drives have together resulted in the planting of millions of trees annually, contributing to carbon sequestration and groundwater recharge.

Tree Plantation in Rajasthan

Rajasthan, being a desert-prone state, places special emphasis on plantation to combat desertification and restore ecological balance. In recent years, the state government and NGOs have undertaken extensive plantation programs. Notably, the Rajasthan Forest Department reported planting over 10 crore saplings between 2015 and 2023 under various greening and afforestation schemes. These efforts have helped improve soil fertility, reduce dust storms, and provide shade and livelihood opportunities to local communities.

Impact of Tree Plantation

- ❖ Environmental: Reduces carbon dioxide levels, improves air quality, and supports biodiversity.
- ❖ Social: Provides shade, fruits, and medicinal resources while creating community awareness.
- ❖ Economic: Supports sustainable livelihoods through timber, fruit, and eco-tourism.
- ❖ Health: Enhances mental and physical well-being by improving local environmental quality.
